*The United States District Court for the Western District of Louisiana authorized this notice.
This is not a solicitation from a lawyer.*

A Class-Action Settlement has been reached in a lawsuit against United Water System, Inc. (“United Water”), American Alternative Insurance Corporation (“AAIC”), and National Union Fire Insurance Company of Pittsburgh, Pa. (“National Union”) (collectively, “Defendants”) regarding damages allegedly sustained by individuals as a direct result of receiving water from United Water between February 16, 2013 and the present (the “Settlement”). The case is called Aaron Knott, et al. versus United Water System, Inc., et al., Civil Action No. 6:23-cv-00401.

Plaintiffs assert that they have been damaged by United Water’s deficient water service from February 16, 2013 to the present. More specifically, Plaintiffs allege that they have received water from United Water that is regularly discolored, contains suspended particulate matter and contamination, and has unpleasant and objectionable odors. Plaintiffs also allege to have regularly suffered drops in water pressure, fluctuating water pressure levels, and total loss of water pressure/supply at times, along with boil advisories. Plaintiffs allege that all of these issues, as well as the written and published notices of drinking water standard violations received from United Water during the proposed class period, render the water from United Water unfit for use and caused damage to their persons and/or personal property. Defendants vigorously deny all of these allegations and claims of wrongdoing. Plaintiffs and Defendants have agreed to the Settlement to avoid the risk and expense of further litigation.
